who enjoys expressing themselves
through art.*

Date: 1/10/2010 - 1/12/2010
Location: Chi Rho House Fee: $100 (double occupancy and includes lodging and meals)

The Background . . .

We've found no better time for inspiration than to pack up in the dead of winter and head to the Adirondacks. Faith and the Arts are having such a long conversation. Come be part of this holy discussion led by Scott Adams and Heather Moore- Niver.

What To Do . . .

During these few days, you are welcome to stay where it's warm and cozy or venture out into the cold. You can take a walk in the woods or on a frozen lake, or light a fire in the fireplace at Lakeside Lodge or the Chapel. You'll be encouraged to spend your free time absorbing and/or creating. Use the time to create by yourself, work with others, or just wander in search of inspiration.

The Structure . . .

Taking the time for pause and/or silence is a key theme of these two days. The structure will be minimal, but we will begin each day with a short reflection from the scriptures to guide our time. The opening session after Sunday evening dinner will include a little music and story as well as an outline of the retreat and some suggestions for ways to use your time. We will leave Monday evening open for a time of coming together as a group to share our creations.
